INSTALLATION

SCOPE-LINK bases are easy to install. Provide these instruction to your gunsmith or armorer for installation.

Do not attempt to install these products on your weapons unless you are fully qualified to do so.

Note: Use of Lock-tite is NOT recommended by MSP. Excess Lock-tite can flow through the Ruger10-22 receiver holes and into the receiver interior, and cause a malfunction. If Lock-tite must be used because of exceptional circumstances, place only small amount of BLUE Lock-tite on the screw threads, wipe off any excess, and re-install the screw.

SHORT BASE INSTALLATION

1. Remove the forward two plug screws.

2. Place the short base aligned with the forward receiver holes. The base will cantilever forward of the receiver end by ½" for maximum eye relief.

3. Secure the base to the receiver using the 6-48 T10 Torx screws supplied.

Short Base Installation Is Complete

Any standard single mount will fit the short base. A SPOT scope on an ARMS mount is shown here using a forward cantilever PCW spacer for extra eye relief – all available from MSP

The short base permits other accessories to be mounted in the rear receiver holes. An Eagle rear peep sight is shown here with a BSA HUD style sight shown on the base -- all available from MSP.

FULL LENGTH BASE INSTALLATION

1. Remove all four plug screws.

2. Place the base aligned with the receiver holes.

3. Secure the base to the receiver with the four 6-48 T10 Torx screws supplied.

Full Length Base Installation Complete.

Any dual ring scope can be mounted on the full length base.

Other MSP products for the Ruger 10-22 include the SIGHTLINK Fiber-Optic front sight — the only fiber optic 10-22 sight permitting the user to change rods and rod colors any time.
